Views of an Old Line Democrat.

The following is the material portion of a Letter from Dr. GEORGE B. LORING, of Salem, Mass. in reply to a letter numerously signed by his fellow-citizens inviting him to give his views on the present crisis in a public address. "Dr. Loring" for reasons given, declines to appear before the public as a speaker, but as he has been put in an equivocal position by a portion of the party press, and as he feels a deep interest in the affairs of the country, he takes advantage of the occasion, to set himself right before his fellow-citizens in the letter of which the following is an extract:

With the errors, and mistakes, and shortcomings, and delinquences of the times, I do not propose to deal. No age has been without them; no man has escaped them; all our heroes and great men have been charged with them; they confuse and blind, in every violent excitement, whether civil or military; and they have left their mark on every great human effort. The true intent and meaning of all that is now passing before us, lie above and beyond this dust of the highway, as it was in the days of Washington and Jefferson, whose labors form the three great eras in our history.

The past we all know is full of glories; and so is the present, if we will but look at it aright, full of glories still brighter. The heroism, and devotion, and self-sacrafice of our people, have hardly yet been equaled. And in the work which they have undertaken, I cannot conceive of the necessity or possibility or honor of taking one step backwards. We have organized great armies; we have built great navies; we have achieved great victories; we have arrested the mischievous designs of foreign powers; we have secured unparalleled domestic prosperity; we have taken a long stride in the work of relieving our government from the blot, which the faith and hope and charity of the fathers left behind them, with the firm belief in their minds, that it would be wiped out by advancing civilization, and by the verdict of a high-toned and elevated people living under a free constitution. Why then should we retrace our steps?

Not for our moral elevation surely. However obedient we may have been to our constitutional obligations, however impatient of attacks on our system of government, however anxious that the rights, conferred upon us, and preserved by us, should be respected, however confident that the liberal and just spirit which formed the Constitution, should guide its application in all cases, we have still felt the one burthen which has pressed upon us all; we have still seen the one cloud in our otherwise clear and refulgent sky. Can we then, in the face of heaven and the civilized world, return voluntarily to the compromise, which an appeal to arms has scattered to the winds?

Not for our national prosperity. For if anything is to give value our currency, if anything is to enable us to support the burthen of our taxation, if anything is to give ultimate value to our bonds in the markets of the world, it anything is to restore our commerce, and secure for our manufactures and products the encouragement of an untrammeled trade, it is the entire success of our arms, in a manly and unflinching contest for the supremacy of our government. There is a rapidly increasing debt, I know, growing out of the war; there is an inflation of the currency and of the markets. But when the power of our country shall be estbalished by the sword, and labor shall return to its accustomed channels, the fabulous wealth of India can hardly compare with that which may be drawn from our mines and our soil, and which will be created by the ceaseless ingenuity of our people on the land and on the sea. At the close of the war, industry may pause, for a time. But it will only be for the gathering of new strength to give value to our currency, and to secure the interest on a funded debt—the investment made by a gallant people in the cause of a good government. If we would invalidate our debt, we have but to surrender to foes without and bad counsel within. If we would bankrupt our people, we have but to pause in the war, for our enemies to take fresh courage, and to destroy the confidence of our citizens in their government. Let us take care of our armies, and our armies will take care of the debt.

Not for our national peace and glory. We have not reached the point of armistice or suspension. There is no treaty which we could offer, acceptable to the South, consistant with our honor and future prosperity. There is no guarantee which would not be open to future political change and consequent renewal of the strife. That people, which has taken up arms for national independence, is not bone of our bone, and flesh of our flesh, if it would now return to its former condition simply to renew that political controversy which has ended in such a baptism of blood. The terms of peace which they would demand we cannot submit to; the terms of peace which we could offer they are not yet ready to accept. When they are ready to accept terms based on the Constitution they will be ready to accept terms based on emancipation, for they know perfectly well that reunion now means emancipation, let the process be what it may.

Not for the sake of humanity. The land is indeed red with the blood of slaughtered citizens, the sky is darkened by the smoke of burning villages, fields are wasted, and the angel of death hovers gloomily over our homes. But to pause now in our career, with the manifest result of this war half accomplished, is simply to transmit to our descendants all the seeds of strife, and to bring down upon our heads their curses for their inheritance of blood.

It seems to me, therefore, that the platform adopted by the supporters of Gen. McClellan does not belong to the order of events through which our country is now passing. If it means anything it means humiliation and civil war at the North; and I do not believe that either of these two calamities is to befall us. I have too much faith in the courage of our people to believe them ready for the former—too much faith in their good sense to believe them ready for the latter. And when I am told that the platform is repudiated, and that all the hopes of our country are to be hung upon the simple elevation of Gen. McClellan to the Presidency, without any acknowledged principles, it seems to me to be such a fall from the brave old avowal of specific doctrines, to which Democrats have been accustomed, that I cannot understand how they find place for themselves in such a contest. I see nothing but evil in such a position. McClellan with the platform brings disgrace; McClellan without the platform brings confusion. For, to say nothing about the uncertainty which would paralyze the country between his election and inauguration, the doubts which would hang over the army, the new life which would be infused into those who are opposed to the government, the plots and counterplots which would arise, we may turn with fear and trembling to the consequences which might arise from an open hostility between the President and Congress in times like these.

Gen. McClellan has enjoyed great opportunities for good in his day, but this can in no way be added to the number. His elevation, under the circumstances, would be simply an additional calamity. Where would be his armistice, where his terms of peace, where his finance, where his supplies? And if, after an attempt to make his views acceptable to an opposing Congress, he found nothing before him but war still, what shall we have gained by this feeble interregnum, but the contempt of our enemies at home and abroad?

I have not been taught to support any such policy. It was the grand and crushing reception given by Jackson to the first State rebellion which taught us how supreme the Constitution might and should be over this republic. The great men of the past planted and upheld the Flag of the Union, for the admiration and obedience of the American people, and with a bold and defiant front against all foreign interference on this continent. Loyalty from the citizen and respect from foreign powers they demanded and would have, though the heavens fell about them, and the earth trembled beneath the iron heel of war. And with all this high purpose, they never forgot the great duty of directing their conduct according to the emergency of the times, with courage and devotion and large understanding. I cannot believe that they would have supported any policy which would tend to invite foreign interference, or recognize the independence of a revolted State, or weaken the armed power of the government by suspending the action of the armies of the land, and yielding our control of blockaded ports through an armistice. I cannot, as taught by them, fail to support the administration in its efforts to give us a country.

I am confident that our country will come honorably out of this contest, purified as gold that is tried by the fire. However much I may have deplored the strife, however much I may have regretted any policy which seemed to prolong and embitter it, I can see nothing before us at this hour, but a determined march in the course pointed out to us. God knows, the sufferings of the war are enough to appal the stoutest heart, and that the sorrows which follow in its train are innumerable and sickening. But never before has such a service been placed in the hands of armies, as is now submitted to ours. Never before have the statesmen of any age been charged with a duty so momentous as that which rests so solemnly on ours. I would have this people strengthen the hands of all its public servants,—confident as I am that when the day of peace does dawn, it will bestow its light upon a nation united by common suffering, and engaged in one attempt to preserve unharmed a great free government. That the prosperity and happiness, the good order and elevation of the nation absorb all the thought and effort of those who hold our destinies in their hands, I cannot for a moment doubt. That our soil has been watered by the blood of our bravest sons in vain, I cannot for a moment believe. If a greater and nobler and stronger and purer nation does not grow out of this struggle, may God in his mercy, blot its record from human memory.

I have the honor to be,
Respectfully, your ob't servant,
GEO. B. LORING.

Last Chance.

The Board of Aldermen will be session to-day, from 9 o'clock in the forenoon to 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of correcting the voting lists.

Those persons whose names are not on the list correctly, and those who have a right to vote whose names are not on, should attend to it to-day if they wish to exercise the privilege of voting for President to-morrow.

Look out for the Soldiers!

Every person in the city who has a relative or friend in any of the hospitals, who is entitled to vote here, should see that his name is correctly borne on the check list TO-DAY, as some of them may reach home by the train this evening or to-morrow, when it will be too late to attend to it.

The Laboring Class.

No class of our citizens have a deeper interest in the coming election than those who labor and do the work of the country. The great contest is not for men, but for principles. It is emphatically a contest between free labor on the one side and slave labor on the other. The Southern rebels are striving for power to perpetuate the slave system, not only in the slave States, but also to extend it all over territory now free. True Democracy and a proud aristocracy are the contestants, and every vote thrown for Abraham Lincoln is a vote for democracy, and every vote thrown for McClellan is a vote for aristocracy. The whole matter lies within the compass of a nutshell, and he who runs may read and understand the true record.

To vigorously prosecute the war and crush out the rebellion in the shortest space of time is to put down the slave oligarchy, dignify labor and place the working men and working women on the elevated plane where they belong; but an armistice or negotiating with rebels in arms is the direct course to establish the doctrine which Herschell V. Johnson advocated in 1860 when he was the democratic candidate for Vice President. He said "We believe capital should own labor!" And what did John C. Calhoun, the father of the democracy that would now rule the country, say years ago? It is this, "The hand that is familiar with the plough handle should never be permitted to touch a ballot!" Think of that, farmers of Maine, and then vote, if you can, for McClellan, armistice and the slave aristocracy.

But that is not all. Hear what Gov. Hammond said, "In all social systems, there must be a class to do the menial duties—a lower order of intellect and little skill!" And this proud aristocrat wound up by characterising the laboring class as "the mudsills of society!" And again one Spratt said in an address to the Confederate Congress at Montgomery in 1861, "The real contest lies between two forms of society. In the one the reins of government come from the heels, in the other, from the head of society." But De Bow's southern Review, about the only literary work the South has ever published, places the whole matter in a clearer light, if that were possible. It says, "The theory of free labor is a delusion. Slavery is the normal condition of the laboring man, white or black!"

Such are the sentiments of Southern rebels and slaveholders, and the copperheads of the North are doing all in their power to perpetuate that same system of slavery—"the sum of all villanies" as it has been well characterized by the great and good Wesley—and induce the working men of the free states to assist them by their votes next Tuesday to accomplish their abominable work. But we trust and believe very large numbers of the working men of Maine who have heretofore voted with the Democrats, are not so easily hood-winked and blinded. They will break away from a party that was once powerful and patriotic, and join hands with the great Union party and put down forever on this continent that vile system which characterises them as "the mudsills of society." Our farmers will show to the world that their hands although "familiar with the plough-handle," can "touch a ballot" and put it into the box for Freedom. And our mechanics will say to these proud slaveholders that there are not slave races born to labor and master-races born to govern and control the fruits of labor as the Richmond Examiner has recently affirmed.

Difference between Generals Grant and McClellan.

Gen. Grant, from the time he embarked at the head of an Illinois regiment at Cairo, up to the present moment, has never wrested from the rebels a single square foot of territory that he has abandoned; that he did not hold on to. In one of the most terrible conflicts of the war, at Pittsburg Landing, after he had been beaten or fought drawn battles two successive days, and when on the third day his columns waved, he threw himself into the breach, wavered his hat before his troops, and said, "come on brave boys," and victory, a glorious one, perched upon his standard. This was Grant.

Gen. McClellan, from the time he arrived at Washington until he was supplanted in the command of the finest army in the world, a period of eighteen months, never wrested from the rebels a single square foot of territory that he did hold on to; that he did not abandon or that was not taken from him. In one of the most terrible conflicts of his entire campaign, at Malvern Hill, after he had been driven back for nearly half a dozen successive days, and when his troops had entrenched themselves in a strong position, he skulked on board a gunboat, said that his army was demoralized, that the Federal cause was a failure, and that he should be forced to capitulate or surrender before night, and when news came to him of a glorious victory in spite of his inefficiency, he sent word to his victorious legions to retreat to Harrison's Landing, and abandon the field which they had won at the cost of many a gallant soldier. THIS WAS MCCLELLAN.

George B. McClellan.

While upon the bed from which he was removed only by death, Gen. F. W. Lander, who served under McClellan in the West Virginia campaign, said that if McClellan was kept at the head of our army our cause would be ruined; that the only hope of salvation was in supplanting him by a man of more calibre, of more courage, of more vigor.

When Gen. Charles D. Jameson was lying sick at Washington after the battle of Fair Oaks, he said to a friend at his side, "Mr. ——, this country is in a terrible crisis; it is one that demands the best talent in the country at the head of the army. Gen. McClellan is not a man who is able to comprehend the magnitude of the work before him, or of sufficient capacity to meet the emergencies of his situation."

This remark, in substance if not in the exact words, was made to a near friend, then sitting by his bedside—a friend who was at that time a devoted friend of McClellan. The remark of Gen. Lander was made to a member of Congress.

Will not such testimony from the gallant dead have some weight with the living? It is well known that the gallant Berry, who fell at Chancellorville, coincided with Jameson in his views of McClellan.

A Fact for Democrats.

Let no Democrat forget that Lord Lyons communicated to his Government, that he had had an interview with the Democratic leaders of New York and other States, in relation to the recognition of Southern independence by the British Government; that they wished to have an understanding with him as to the most opportune moment, so that it should not be done at a time or under circumstances to consolidate Northern feelings, and thus defeat its object.

Think of it, ye Democrats who love your country, and by your votes to-morrow say whether you will follow the lead of men who are plotting against their own country with the emissaries of a foreign power, or whether you will administer a scathing rebuke to the traitors who have plotted with a British minister for the defeat of their own Government, the disintegration of the Union, and the subversion of the Constitution.

The Country—An Epigram.

The following is dedicated to the Boston Post by the Boston Commonwealth. It would bear re-dedicating to a brace of copperhead papers in the "natural seaport:"

"We go for the country, right or wrong!"
Such was "Democracy" years ago and long
When the country was wrong; but now it is right
The "Democrats" neither will sing for't nor fight.

The War Democrats.

The recent meeting held in New York by the war democrats was a more important gathering than we had supposed. When such men as Gen. Walbridge, Gen. Dan Sickles, Edwards Pierrpoint, Francis B. Cutting, Gen. Dix and other gentlemen of distinction and note in the democratic party get together to talk over the affairs of the country, it means something.

Gen. Sickles made a brilliant and patriotic speech in which he expressed much indignation at the cowardly doctrines of the Chicago Convention and emphatically denied that that convention represented either the principles or the spirit of the democratic party. The following is the conclusion of his eloquent speech.

Is it not enough to see that every enemy of our country is in favor of the election of McClellan (cheers.) Is it not enough to put every one who has a spark of patriotism in his heart on the side of the flag of the Union?—When did the democratic party vote on the advice of the London Times? When before, in the history of nations, was a country known to take dictation from its enemies in the field? And yet we know, and we have the assurance of that friend of America, John Bright, that every enemy of American prosperity prays for the success of McClellan, while every friend of America and liberal institutions prays for the success of Lincoln. (Cheers.) Look one step further and you will see Lincoln carrying the flag of the Union, stained with the smoke of many conflicts, riddled with the rebel bullets, but yet flying proudly over the brave armies upon whom we are to rely for victory and peace. (Applause.) Turn then, and see McClellan, carrying in his hand the flag put there by the Chicago convention—not the flag of the Union, but a white flag of capitulation. And follow it if you will, but do not expect a man who has had the honor to serve as a soldier in this war to follow any such flag.

A Voice from the Front.

Extract from a letter from an Army Officer before Petersburg:

Of our Country, I am very hopeful. The prospect of final success is very bright. We are an army of Union men, and intend to settle this war in the most honorable manner, viz, at the point of the bayonet. Shall the sacrifice of millions of treasures, the destruction of thousands of human lives, the maiming of as many more fathers, husbands, sons and brothers—the broken, sorrowing hearts of thrice the number of mothers, wives, sisters and children be in vain? Shall four years of civil war—shall the sublime struggle of a nations sons and daughters to maintain the nations integrity, and preserve unimpaired to their posterity the glorious heritage of free institutions, end in making terms with treason? No! God forbid! This is the answer we can almost hear coming up from the new made graves beneath our feet. It springs from the sternly compressed lips of the soldier's in the trenches, finds an echo in the dying accents of the wounded patriot, and is re-echoed from the sad expectant hearts of hundreds and thousands who pray for the success of our arms, until the multiplied sound becomes the nations voice answering in thunder tones, No, never! GOD FORBID!

I believe I write the sentiments of every Union soldier, when I write that we are resolved never to lay down our arms until treason and falsehood shall have surrendered unconditionally to righteous truth and liberty. Considering the signs of the times, it can hardly be deemed presumptious in me to prophecy that our recent numerous victories, are but the gray dawning light that precedes the fast approaching day of triumph and peace which shall deliver us from this night of war. The monster rebellion has already been wounded in its vital parts. Even now we behold its terrible death-throes, but after the impending blows of the Presidential election has been delivered, we may write the hideous monster dead.

Dr. George B. Loring.

This gentleman is better known in Massachusetts than in this State. He resides in Salem, is a gentleman of fortune, largely interested in stock-raising and in agricultural science, was collector of the port of Salem under the Pierce administration, edited a Democratic paper in that city, supported Mr. Buchanan's Kansas measures, was a member of the Charleston Convention, and with Butler was of the bolters who nominated John C. Breckinbridge. He and Butler were both on the stump for Breckinbridge, came together to this State, were both at Bath and made speeches to a ratification meeting in that city, and so highly were they esteemed that Mr. Buchanan's Collector of the port made a levee at his house in their honor at the close of the meeting. Such is a succinct history of the author of the noble letter upon the first page of this paper, to which special attention is invited.

Pendleton vs. McClellan.

Geo. H. Pendleton, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, voted against a resolution of thanks to Gen. McClellan in the House of Representatives.

Geo. H. Pendleton thanked God that he had never voted a man or a dollar to carry on the war, "forced upon the people of the North by the disunionists of the South."

Geo. H. Pendleton said if the rebel States could not be won back by concession and compromise, he "would signalize their departure by tokens of love."

One day for the Country.

To-morrow will witness the most important election ever held in our country. It is to be the grand conflict between Constitutional Liberty and Revolutionary Anarchy at the polls. The Rebellion is to be tried at the ballot-box. A vote for Lincoln is a vote to uphold the Country, the Union and the Constitution. A vote for McClellan is a vote for the success of Jeff. Davis. Let every true man consider that upon his efforts the question may turn.

Giving it Up!

The Argus of Saturday contains the following paragraph:

Thousands who vote for Lincoln next Tuesday will bitterly regret it before the first day of next July. Write this down for reference.

If this is not virtually giving up all hope of "Little Mac's" election and an acknowledgment that Lincoln will be elected, then we do not know the meaning of language. We did not think the Argus would back down before election.

FREEPORT.—The loyal people of Freeport had a grand rally on Saturday evening, notwithstanding the coldness of the evening and the muddy condition of the roads. The spacious Congregational Meeting House was well filled. Dr. Wells presided. Nathan Webb, Esq., of this city, for nearly an hour addressed the meeting in a sound, logical, common-sense and convincing speech, which commanded undivided attention, and was well received. Mr. Webb was followed by J. T. Gilman, of this city, who spoke at length upon the issues and duties of the hour, The Union men of Freeport are alive to their responsibilities, and will give a good account of themselves to-morrow.

THE JACOBIN SPIRIT.—If any one wishes to see the spirit and animus of the party now opposing the government and playing into the hands of the southern rebels, let him read an inflammatory address to the working classes which was published in Saturday's Argus, It betrays an attempt to exasperate the passions of the ignorant and prejudiced to the point of revolution, and to precipitate a bloody civil war here at the North. And that is the spirit and purpose of the Jacobins, who now control the Democratic organization.

PROPHECY.—"I desire to make this record: If it comes to be understood that the views and policy of Messrs. Sumner, Greeley, Wendell Phillips, Ward Beecher, &c., &c., obtain in the conduct of the war, it will result in the destruction of our government and Union, and a triumph of rebellion and slavery."

Such is a recent prophecy of Thurlow Weed. As the gentlemen named in the above remarks are satisfied with the policy indicated in the Baltimore platform, to which Mr. Lincoln has subscribed, we shall await the fulfillment of the prediction with not a little interest.

☞ One of the sensations of London life just now, is preaching in theatres, which is being carried on in five houses, every Sunday.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

☞ Sheridan's motto—Fight often and Early.

☞ Counterfeit tens on the Bank of North America, Boston, are in circulation.

☞ A firm in Springfield, Mass., manufactures sixty thousand collars in a day.

☞ We esteem denunciation from a traitor next in value to a compliment from a patriot.

☞ The resources of the National Banking Association on the 1st Monday of October, were $297,000,000.

☞ The vote of the Loyal League of this country is from 800,000 to 1,000,000, every one of which will be for Lincoln and Johnson.

☞ Ex-Gov. Fairbanks, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., is dangerously ill. His physicians have given up all hopes of his recovery.

☞ The total number of voters registered in the city of New York is 125,000, or some 30,000 more than ever was polled in that metropolis.

☞ The baggage master at North Yarmouth was so severely injured by the cars on Thursday that it is feared he will lose one of his feet.

☞ A. P. Gould's social character received the highest endorsement from F. O. J. Smith!—Of course this will give the colored gentleman a free pass to the best society.

☞ The Union-loving people of Farmington are to have a grand rally this evening, at the Court House, and to be addressed by J. T. Gilman of this city.

☞ The death of Capt. John S. Gorden, commander of the gunboat Reno, of Searsport, in a late skirmish a few miles above Newburn, N. C., has been announced.

☞ Col. Mark F. Wentworth, of the 32d Me. regiment, who was severely wounded at the time of the explosion at Petersburg, when his regiment was so terribly shattered, has resigned his commission.

☞ "Semmes," and nothing more, was the motto on one of the transparencies at a Democratic meeting in Cincinnati, and that was infamy enough. The fitting finale should have been cheers for Jeff. Davis.

☞ Eleven hundred deserters from the rebel army came into our lines, near Richmond, in twelve days last month. Letter-writers say if Lincoln is elected the Confederate soldiers will desert by thousands.

☞ Gov. Morton, of Indiana, has received a letter purporting to come from a "Son of Liberty," assuring his Excellency of assassination unless he releases within two weeks certain traitors therein named.

☞ No one will be surprised to learn that Isaac Toucey, Buchanan's Secretary of the Navy, is out for McClellan. If his residence had been a few degrees farther south he would have been in Jeff. Davis' cabinet.

☞ Col. John W. Forney has recently been stumping a large portion of Northern Pennsylvania, and predicts that the gains in the counties of that section will, with probably a single exception, be Union gains.

☞ The only question of doubt involved in the coming Presidential election is whether or not McClellan will get the vote of a single state. There is a possibility of his carrying Missouri and no probability of his carrying any other State.

☞ The Bath Times says the bark St. Cloud, now at Damariscotta, will sail about the 5th of December for Pensacola via Philadelphia. A proposition is made by the owners to carry all parcels and packages free of expense, to the Second Maine Cavalry, now at Barrancas.

☞ Four Pennsylvania regiments are ordered to report at Philadelphia. The government is taking every precaution to prevent any interference with the free expression of the wishes of every loyal voter, at the ballot-box, on Tuesday.

☞ The Bangor Whig says the sick and wounded soldiers who have arrived in that city, speak in the highest terms of their treatment in Portland and other stations, where they were furnished with refreshments and were the recipients of many other kind attentions.

☞ The New Orleans Era says the 2d New York Cavalry, serving in Louisiana, has cast its entire vote, upward of eight hundred, for Lincoln, McClellan not receiving a single ballot.—The corps served for many months in the Army of the Potomac under McClellan.

☞ The military companies of Boston, including the Lancers and Dragoons, are ordered to hold themselves in readiness to answer any call that may be made upon them at a moment's notice. The troops in the harbor are under the same orders.

☞ Hon. George Thompson spoke in Concord on Wednesday evening, the Monitor states, to the largest audience ever gathered in any building in that city. Twenty-nine years ago that gentleman was mobbed while speaking in that city. The world moves.

☞ It is stated on good authority that Government has knowledge that not only great numbers of refugees in the British Provinces are plotting to come into the States and vote on Tuesday next, but that large quantities of arms are already in Canada, designed for distribution throughout the North.

☞ The presence of Gen. Butler in New York on the day of the Presidential election with a corps veteran soldiers will be a terror to evil doers. He is for the present in command of the Eastern Department and any attempt to interfere with the ballot box or to destroy property, will be met with the same determination as he has met rebels in the front.

☞ At the last election in this state a young man in Andover connected with several of the leading families in this city, walked 42 miles to cast his first vote for the Union candidates. He has one brother serving in the Federal army and another has fallen with his face to the enemy. With such young men to vote and fight, our country is safe.

☞ We have received a catalogue of the officers and students of Bates College, Lewiston, for the year ending Nov. 23, 1864. It represents this College in a very prosperous condition.—The number in attendance during the year is 325; in the College Department 26. The expenses for board, tuition, rent, &c., are about fifty dollars a term.

☞ A correspondent of the Oxford Democrat says six members of the family of the late Joseph E. Colby, Rumford, have died within three months. On the fourth of July, Lieut. Colby was buried, and a few days after his mother was laid in the grave. Sept. 27th, Sarah, his only daughter, died; Oct. 14th, David, another son; and Oct. — Wm. Pitt, another of the sons, all died from diptheria.

☞ Lieut. Esterbrook, of the 26th Massachusetts regiment, says in relation to the proposition of the rebels to arm their slaves, that he conversed freely with them while on his way from Richmond prison to our lines, and they were highly pleased with the idea of being armed as it would give them a good opportunity to shoot their officers and go over to the Federal army in a body.

AUGUST BELMONT, chairman of the National Democratic Committee and President of the Chicago Convention, is an agent for the Rothchilds in London. The Rothchilds have invested largely in Confederate scrip, variously estimated from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000.—If McClellan should be elected President, an attempt will be made to induce the government to assume the Confederate debt as one of the conditions of peace and thereby putting into the pockets of these wealthy bankers this large amount, which would otherwise be a dead loss. Can any man entitled to the privilege of voting, be so blind as not to see the spring of action by which Belmont moves, and the motive that actuates him to throw the weight of his influence and money into the Democratic scale?

KING'S LADY'S BOOK.—This little Monthly for November is promptly on hand, bright as a dew-drop, fragrant as a lilly. A note at the head of the "Editors' Table" says, "King's" Lady's Book is edited and printed exclusively by Matella, (aged 13 years) and Theo. I. King, (aged 10 years).

APOLOGY.—Hon. S. C. Fessenden of Rockland was announced to address the Young Mens' Lincoln and Johnson Club on Friday evening, but was prevented from doing so by the impassable state of the roads, rendered so by the storm.

Grand Master of Maine and the Masonic Mission.

OFFICE OF THE GRAND MASTER,
PORTLAND, Nov. 4th, 1864.

REV. W. H. HADLEY—

Dear Sir and Bro:—Having read your article in the Press of this morning in regard to the "Masonic Mission," and finding myself alluded to in it, I have deemed it but right, in justice to you, and to avoid all misapprehension as to the position of the Masonic Fraternity of this city as far as the "Mission" is concerned, to notice some few statements made in the article referred to.

And first, as far forth as the matters stated by you in that article are within my knowledge, they are strictly true.

The coldness you refer to, of the members of the fraternity on your first return to this city, arose from a variety of reasons. Many were and are of the opinion that there are already as many organizations of this kind as can be respectably supplied with money and articles necessary for a successful carrying out of their design; that in order to sustain these organizations they must have a large corps of officers, more or less of them to be paid; that a considerable proportion of both the money and materials furnished is consumed in "running the machine," while but a comparatively small part reaches the destination intended by the donors. Others objected to the large field the organization undertook to occupy, believing that a far greater amount of good could be accomplished with the same means by two or three small simple organizations than by one, hampered down by a system of red tape; it being a matter of notoriety and susceptible of proof, that many a brave defender of his country has died for want of articles in the hands of the agents of some of these organizations, when those articles were close at hand, because it took so long to untie the red tape.

With some of these objections I sympathize; but I had other objections. I had heard some of the reports alluded to by you, although none touching your integrity and honor as a man, and before giving you a hearing in relation to the "Mission," which you requested, I wished to satisfy myself as to the truth or falsity of those reports. After waiting what to you must have seemed an unaccountably, if not unreasonably long time, and not receiving any reliable evidence to substantiate the reports, I notified you of my readiness to meet you at your convenience.

But another, and to me very serious objection, was the apparent design of inducing the Lodges to appropriate more or less of their funds to be dispensed by other parties than their own appropriate officers, who are, in my view, the only proper almoners of their Lodge's funds.

At the meeting above referred to, after you had stated the purposes of your organization, and we had freely expressed our views and objections with such mutual explanations as were deemed necessary, and you had assented to such position on the part of the fraternity as was decided upon in accordance with the views already expressed, we assured you of our sympathy and good wishes, and disposition to render you such assistance as was in our power, and the interview closed with the best of feelings on our part.

Yours truly and fraternally,

WM. P. PREBLE.

Capture of a Blockade Runner.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.

A despatch from Admiral Porter to the Secretary of the Navy, dated this morning, communicates the intelligence of the capture of the blockade runner Lady Sterling, Friday night, Oct. 28, by the steamers Eolus, Calypso and Port Jackson. She had 980 bales of cotton and is of 1000 tons burthen. She is a beautiful vessel. The engines are 300 horse power, can make 17 knots an hour. She sailed from London in August last and succeeded in entering Wilmington, and was captured in endeavoring to come out. The vessel and cargo are estimated at $800,000.

Pirate Chased by a Gunboat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.

The steamer McClellan, from New Orleans, has arrived. She reports that on the 2d inst., off Frying Pan Shoals, saw a United States gunboat chasing and firing at a large steamer with two smoke stacks, and burning soft coal. Our gunboat was gaining on the supposed pirate rapidly.

LECTURE.—Monsieur Dubois will give a lecture next Thursday evening at the new City Hall on "English and French Blunders." The lecture has been delivered in many cities, and has received universal commendation. He amuses the audience by his anecdotes of the perplexities experienced by a Frenchman in speaking English and by an Englishman speaking French, keeping his hearers in a roar of laughter at the contretemps to which foreigners are subjected in learning languages different from their own.

The lecture is given in aid of the Sailors' National Fair, and we hope the hall will be crowded to its utmost capacity.

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR!

FOR THE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, and all Affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, leading to Consumption.

This sovereign remedy is compounded from the favorite recipe of an illustrious Physician and Chemist, who for many years used it with the most complete success in his extensive private practice.

He had long been profoundly impressed with the wonderful virtue of honey of the plant Horehound, in union with the Cleansing and Healing properties of tar extracted from the Life Principle of the forest tree Abies Balsamea or Balm of Gilead. For years he was baffled in his attempts to blend these great medicinal forces into such a union that the original power of each would be preserved, the disagreeable qualities of common tar removed, and the price of the compound be within the means of all. At last, after a long course of difficult chemical experiments, he found that by adding to these fine other ingredients, each one valuable by itself, he not only obtained the desired results, but greatly increased the curative power of the compound. This having been thoroughly tested by practice, is now offered to the general public as a safe, pleasant and infallible remedy.

Price 50 Cents per Bottle.

GREAT FIRE AT EASTPORT!

Another Triumph

OF THE

ALUM PATENT SAFE.

THE security of Fire Proof Safes (so-called,) when exposed to fire being of more importance than the price paid, we would respectfully call the attention of all safe buyers or owners, to the following certificates in reference to the recent great fire at Eastport:

EASTPORT, ME. OCT. 29, 1864.

Messrs. Thomson & Co., 219 State St., New Haven, Ct., Agents for Valentine & Butlers Alum Patent Safes.

Gents:—The Alum Patent Fire Proof Safe we purchased of you some six months since, was subjected to a severe test in the burning of our two story frame Warehouse, on the 23d inst.; and we are happy to inform you that upon opening the same, after its recovery from the ruins, the contents were uninjured. Although the Brass Knobs, Name Plates, and heavy brass ornaments were melted off the doors by the intense heat, and the varnish started from the drawer fronts by the steam, the wooden case was not charred in the least. You will please send us another Alum Patent Safe, of the same size, (as per order of this date,) as soon as possible, and oblige,

Yours Truly, PEABODY & CUMMINGS.

EASTPORT, ME. OCT. 29, 1864.

Messrs. Thomson & Co., 219 State St., New Haven, Ct., Agents for Valentine & Butlers Alum Patent Safes:

Gents:—In the great fire which destroyed the business portion of this place on the 23d inst., my two story frame Warehouse was totally destroyed.—The Alum Patent Safe purchased of you some two years since and which was subjected to a severe test for several hours, preserved its contents uninjured. (You will please send me another "Alum Patent," as per order of this date,) as soon as possible. Meantime I shall continue to use the old one, which I will ship to you upon receipt of the new safe.

Yours Truly, ROBERT MOWE, Jr.

The two Safes referred to were the ONLY Alum Patent Safes tested at Eastport. Reference can be made to any of the parties burned out. Messrs st. W. LANCEY & Co., 21 and 23 Lime St., are our Agents at Portland. THOMSON & CO.

Dr. Watson's Diptheria Cure.

OBERLIN, May 6th, 1864.

Sir:—Having cured four cases of Diptheria in my house, and watched its wonderful success in many neighborhoods in my travels; I call Dr. Watson's Diptheria Cure a sure cure for that awful scourge. No one dies who takes it in season; and I may say the cures all who are thorough in using it; even after the disease is called fatal by attending physicians. I challange any one to show a failure where the medicine has a reasonable chance. Why would not have it in the house; if they knew its power. A Celebrated Druggist here who feared to try it for a while finally tried it for every member of his family and told me he would not take 100,00 dollars for the sure just for his family, and I dont believe he would take it in gold even at its highest premium. It reminds me of the "Brazen Serpent," a sure cure.

Very Respectfully Yours, E. M. SPENCER.

Valuable Testimonial.

The scholars connected with the Congress street Grammar School for Boys presented their Principal, Mr. George E. Taylor, on Saturday forenoon, an elegant Silver Tea Service costing near $50. The whole affair had been conducted with so much secresy that Mr. Taylor had no knowledge of the intention of his scholars until a representative of each of the classes came in with a piece of the service in his hand, which were placed upon the table, and Master Samuel Gates, in behalf of the members of the school, announced that it was a present to Mr. Taylor from his scholars. Mr. T., evidently much embarrassed by this unexpected token of their friendship and esteem, made a brief speech, expressing his thankfulness for the valuable testimonial, declaring that words were inadequate to express his feelings. He was followed by remarks from members of the sub-committee, Messrs. Holden, White and Colby. The service can be seen in the window of Mr. A. Dunyon, 113 Middle street, for a few days.

Mr. Taylor has been Principal of this school for fourteen years, during which time he has had 1200 different scholars under his tuition, some of whom are in successful business in this city, others have left the State, and others are silent in death. Mr. T., by assignment, will take charge of the Fourth Grammar School for Boys in a week or two, and will be succeeded by Mr. Higgins, from Huntington, New York, who comes highly recommended, and will undoubtedly be a valuable accession to our corps of teachers.

Loyal League Meeting.

Council No. 4 held their regular meeting on Friday evening last, preparatory to the election to-morrow. Speeches were made by J. T. McCobb, Charles Holden, Dr. Lamb, Mr. Wilber, and the President, W. S. Philbrook. The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and the members intend to give a good account of themselves, and of their labors, at the polls to-morrow, in the great work of electing ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON, President and Vice President of the United States. The regular meeting of this Council is held on Friday evening of each week, and on Friday evening next the Loyal Leaguers of this city and vicinity are urgently invited to meet at their rooms in the City Building, nearly opposite 3d Parish Church, Congress street, to take council together over the result of the election to-morrow, and to mingle congratulations over what, at this hour, we have not a shadow of doubt, will be the most magnificent political triumph of Republican principles that this nation has witnessed since it became a power in the world.

Ward Seven—Vigilant Committee.

The following named gentlemen have been selected as a rallying and vigilant committee at the polls to-morrow, and they are requested to report promptly at the opening of the polls:

T C Hersey, S E Spring, Geo W Woodman, N C Rice, Sylvan Shurtleff, Brown Thurston, G M Chase, A Giddings, E L Pickard, Henry Williams, J H Fletcher, Andrew Spring, H B Brown, Wm B Irish, S C Chase, Joseph Johnson, Thomas H Brown, Wm Hatch, Jr., Geo H Tuttle, Hezekiah Packard, F E Chase, John Yeaton, Jr, Geo A Mason, W H Plummer, Wm Parker, S H Gilkey, Charles Simpson, Jas L Merrill, L M Lovejoy, C Trowbridge, H D Shed, George F Foster, J B Thorndike, J F Leavitt, Levi Weymouth, Wm H Stewart, J W Rand, O R Gallison, Wm Watts, Warren A Bibber, John C Perry, Geo S Thurston.

Supreme Judicial Court.

OCTOBER TERM—KENT, J., PRESIDING.

SATURDAY.—The case of Hacker vs. Pope et als. was given to the jury, who, after being out several hours, came into Court, and the foreman stated that there was no possibility of agreeing upon a verdict. The papers were then taken from them, and they were discharged.

Court adjourned to Monday, 10 o'clock, at which time Judge Davis will come in for the purpose of hearing motions.

Municipal Court—Nov. 5.

Sylvester C. Moody, for indecent exposure of his person in public, was sentenced to 30 days imprisonment in the county jail.

THEATRICAL AND MUSICAL.—We notice in the Toronto papers that J. C. Myers and his company are affording the Torontonians in Canada much pleasure by their theatrical exhibitions, besides putting money in their pockets. We judge they are doing a good business in this line. Miss Myers is winning golden opinions, and her acting is spoken of very highly. The other performers are acting well their parts.

Madame Urso and Md'lle Lagrange are also giving the Torontonians some very fine touches of music upon the violin and pianoforte. We should be glad to welcome Madame Urso to Portland again. Her splendid playing on her favorite instrument is not forgotten. Should she visit us with the young pianist she would be heartily welcomed. Our citizens patronize such music liberally. If this should meet her eye we hope she will take the hint and visit the Forest City.

RETURNED SOLDIERS.—About 500 soldiers from various hospitals arrived here at 7 o'clock last evening from Boston. They were liberally supplied with refreshments at the depot by Mr. Wheeler, and there were plenty of ladies to wait upon the wounded and war-worn veterans. At 8 o'clock they started in a special train for the East, over the Portland & Kennebec road.

Previous to leaving the depot the soldiers gave rousing cheers "for Old Abe," Gov. Cony, Portland and the Ladies. McClellan stock was at an immense discount with them. It was stated that not over twenty of the whole number would vote for McClellan.

THE Winter arrangement of trains on the Grand Trunk Railway goes into operation to-day. The morning train from this city to South Paris and Lewiston will leave at 7.40 instead of 7, as heretofore.

A VOTE was taken for President on board the train from Boston for this city Saturday evening. It stood Lincoln 210, McClellan 81

RECRUITING.—Only one substitute was passed at the Provost Marshal's office Saturday, and he was credited to the town of Bridgton.

The number now lacking to fill up the several quotas of the towns in the 1st District is about 100.

The Provost Marshal's office will not be open for the transaction of business until Thursday morning. It will be closed for the three days in order that all engaged in it may have an opportunity of exercising their privilege on election day.

Adjutant General Hodsdon has notified Recruiting Agents that where the quota of a town is full no more than $100 State bounty will be reimbursed for those enlisting thereafter, whether as substitute or recruits, or for any term of service.

MORTALITY OF PORTLAND.—The whole number of deaths in this city during the month of October, 1864, was 59. Of these there died of Consumption, 13; cholera infantum, 2; diptheria, 2; intemperance, 1; infantile, 1; disease of the heart, 1; diseases of bowel, 7; old age, 1; paralysis, 2; fevers, 8; measles, 2; child birth, 1; dropsy on the brain, 1; croup, 2; whooping cough, 1; still born, 3; disease of kidney, 1; disease of liver, 1; vomiting, 1; neuralgia, 1; cramp, 1; canker, 1; diabetis, 1; syphilus, 1; inflamation of lungs, 1; mortification, 1; unknown, 1.

Ages—under 5 years, 21; between 5 and 10, 1; 10 and 20, 4; 20 and 30, 4; 30 and 40, 8; 40 and 50, 1; 50 and 60, 5; 60 and 70, 5; 70 and 80, 3; 80 and 90, 3; unknown, 1; still born, 3.

Sexes—Males, 26; females, 29; unknown, 4; total 59. LOUIS BUNCE, Superintendent of Burials.

SHIPMENTS TO NORTH SIDE OF CUBA.—Our merchants engaged in shipping lumber, &c., to the North side of Cuba have entered into an agreement not to ship lumber, box shooks or hoops in any other way than has been the custom, viz:—long lumber to be rafted and towed to shore, and shooks and hoops to be landed on shore at the expense of the vessel.

They also agree that in chartering vessels for the round voyage, they will not pay the domestic port charges.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.—The Lincoln and Johnson Club had the most enthusiastic meeting of the season last Saturday evening. The hall was filled and the best spirit prevailed. The meeting was addressed by Hon. J. H. Drummond, Gen. Neal Dow, Hon. J. T. McCobb, Hon. Charles Holden and John Neal, Esq., in patriotic terms, and adjourned with cheers for President Lincoln, to meet this evening at the grand rally at City Hall.

CAUGHT.—A fellow has for some time past been prowling round our street indecently exposing his person. Last Friday he was caught in the act in Sumner street, and taken to the lock-up. Saturday Judge Kingsbury sent the fellow to jail for thirty days.

THE suspicious steamer reported by Capt. Sherwood, of steamer Potomac, as seen forty miles North of Cape Cod Thursday night, was the U. S. revenue cutter Pawtuxet, Capt. Fengar, from Boston, in search of the Tallahassee.

WE are requested by the Agents of the New York steamers to state that the steamer Chesapeake has been taken from the route, for one trip. There will, therefore, be no steamer to leave here for New York till Saturday next, the 12th inst.

THE American Illustrated newspapers for this week have been received at the book and periodical store of A. Robinson, No. 51 Exchange street.

FOREIGN EXPORTS.—The total value of foreign exports from this port last week amounted to $63,237.59.

☞ The polls in this city tomorrow will be open at 10 A. M. and close at 4 P. M.

Letter from Gen. Butler.

The following earnest and patriotic letter from Gen. Butler will be read with interest, and particularly commends itself to the attention of patriotic Democrats who seek to know and do their duty in the present crisis:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA, In the Field, Va. Oct. 30, 1864.

Hon. William Claflin, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your complimentary invitation to address the people of Massachusetts at Faneuil Hall upon the issues of the present canvass, and should be pleased, if my duties in the field would permit a visit to my home, to confer with my fellow-citizens upon the great questions which are to be settled at the coming election.

Specially am I desirous so to do because I am fully convinced that the election determines the place of my country among the nations for all coming time, and were it possible, as your Committee are kindly disposed to believe, that anything I might do or say in Massachusetts could influence that result, it would be my duty, laying aside all else, to repair at once to the field where, in my judgment, the whole contest will be decided on the 8th of November. But in such case if had such power I would not go to Massachusetts, for "they that are whole need no physician, but they that are sick," and I cannot believe for a moment that there can be any considerable portion of the citizens of Massachusetts so misled in their judgment, so blinded by their prejudices, so unreasoning in their party ties and so unpatriotic in the effect of their misjudged action as to sustain by their votes the principles enunciated in the Chicago platform, specially as the canvass differs from every other, in this—that the life or death of the nation as a power on earth depends on the action of the hour.

A vote to forget our manhood; to abandon the doctrines of our fathers; to give up the hope of republican liberty forever; to check at once and forever the American nation in its great missionary march of civilization, progress and christian freedom; to abandon the hopes of millions yet to be, can never be given by Massachusetts, or the country. It is the profoundest conviction of my judgment that such is the effect of the vote demanded by those who seek to establish the principles of the Chicago resolutions.

We are asked to yield all our most cherished convictions, to give up our principles, to stultify our reason, to abandon the graves of our brothers and sons on every battle field, to proclaim their lives a failure, and their deaths as naught! And for what? To open negotiations with those who refuse to negotiate—to try the not doubtful experiment of meeting with diplomacy those armed to the teeth for a fight—to make friends with those who have declared themselves enemies and to extend the hand of fellowship and take the hands of those who are reeking with our brothers' blood.

This I will never consent to do.

When by repentance and "works meet for repentance" the rebels acknowledge the wrong they have done the country and mankind, and submit to the laws of the country; when they have assumed their constitutional obligations and fulfilled their duties under the constitution, then will be the time for them and their friends to ask for their constitutional rights.

When they come bringing the olive branch of peace let them be received in peace. When they come with the rifle and the bayonet let them be received in war.

Thus have I ever read the glorious legend emblasoned in the shield of Massachusetts, "By the sword she seeks calm peace with liberty."

It has been said by the opponents of the Government that the army vote would decide this contest.

I earnestly and reverently pray God that it may, for if expressed without the intervention of fraud or deceit, it will end the contest by about the same majority over the opponents of the Government that will be found of the true men in the ranks of the army over the skulkers in the day of battle.

In any matter connected with the State issues at home, if there are any, there must be still less use of my being with you.

No one can doubt of the re-election of the present Executive Government of Massachusetts, for I believe no one has ever questioned the ability, patriotism and zealous energy of the present Chief Magistrate. Although differing with him in some matters of policy and expediency, I have never, nor have the people of the Commonwealth, ever questioned his fitness for his position, or the ability and integrity with which he has sustained it.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
BENJ. F. BUTLER,
Major General.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the America, at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.

Steamship America, from Southampton 26th ult. has arrived.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The ship Senator, arrived at Queenstown, reports that she was boarded by the pirate Florida Sept. 13th, in lat. 6 N., lon. 25 W.

Muller's trial had commenced.

The following houses had suspended:—Hall & Geer, Russia, brokers, liabilities £30,000; I. Piddington, foreign patent agents, liabilities £30,000; Ducworth & Co., wine merchants, liabilities large.

The London Times says the tone of the money market is gradually strengthening.

Confederate loan 64.

FRANCE.

The Emperor would set out for Nice on the 27th, where the Czar would meet him and visit the Empress at Compeigne.

AUSTRIA.

It was rumored that Rechburg had resigned and that Mensdorff would possibly succeed him.

RUSSIA.

The Czar and Czarine arrived at Nice on the 21st.

THE DUCHIES.

A motion to annex Laurenburg to Prussia has been carried in the Laurenburg House of Delegates.

The Berlin semi-official paper says Prussia is not in a position forthwith to accept the Laurenburg Duchies offer of annexation. Prussia can only act in conjunction with Austria, but will do her best to meet the wishes of the people.

ITALY.

Lombardy has been invaded by armed bands dressed in the Garibaldian uniform. The invaders took possession of the Treasury of Spilembergo and Manitigo, leaving behind them a formal receipt.

The Italian Parliament was reopened on the 24th ult.

From the Southwest.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 5.

The steamer James White was sunk at Island No. 10, and is a total loss. She was laden with goverarmen freight.

The steamer Randolph sunk yesterday at the mouth of the Illinois River.

The fight reported a few days since by rebel stragglers is not confirmed, and was probably a canard.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 5.

The steamer Continental arrived here with 80 bales of cotton.

The steamer Dunleath sunk five miles below Helena on the 1st. Most of her cargo will be saved, but the boat is a total loss.

Eighteen deck hands were drowned by the sinking of the steamer James White on Thursday.

The gunboat Undine, captured at Fort Herman, on the Tennessee River, fought the enemy six hours before surrendering. She had six men killed and eight wounded, three of them mortally. Among the wounded is Capt. Bryant. Her armament consisted of eight 24-pounder howitzers. She sunk with her bow lying on the river bank, but it is since reported that the rebels have plugged the holes in her hull and are using her as a gunboat.

The rebels at Fort Herman are reported to be 12,000 strong, with 16 pieces of artillery.

The transports Velus and Chaseman were captured on the same day with the Undine.—The pilot of the former reports that she was riddled by shell and musketry. Capt. Allen and most of her crew were killed, also 15 soldiers who were on board.

The Chaseman was struck by a shell, when she was run ashore, but at last accounts the rebels had not destroyed her.

The rebels have three batteries within a mile above and below Fort Herman.

Thirteen or fourteen of the crew of the Undine are reported to have been killed after the surrender.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 5.

Three regiments of cavalry are reported to be between Decatur and Courtland.

Forrest, with a cavalry force, is reported near Johnsonville, which is amply garrisoned to rebel an attack.

Items from Southern Sources.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 3d inst. has a dispatch, dated near Plymouth, N. C., Oct. 31, which says: "After three days' hard fighting the enemy passed up Middle River and came down Roanoke River. Gen. Baker fought until the enemy's gunboats passed our forts, and dismounted all our guns in the harbor. An evacuation was then ordered, which was accomplished under some shelling. By the above it appears that the Union forces went up a channel, which took them above Plymouth and enabled them to come down another channel commanding the rear of that place.

The Wilmington Journal displays considerable anxiety about the anticipated naval attack on that place.

The Richmond Whig of the 3d inst. gives the number of Union forces in East Tennessee, and says Morristown, where the rebel Gen. Vaughn is said to have suffered a reverse, losing four pieces of artillery, is 37 miles east of Knoxville, and the East Tennessee Railroad runs by it. Vaughn is reported to be at Bristol.

The Richmond Examiner of the 3d inst. has Jacksonville, Ala., advices of the 27th, stating that Hood's army left there on the 22d, and by the 25th had completed the crossing of the Tennessee River. The rebels had secured before crossing some 8000 fine beeves. The track from Dalton had been torn up by Hood for thirty-five miles, and to within 300 yards of Resaca.

Beauregard left Jacksonville soon after the army and took command in the field.

An Alexandria rebel letter shows that the rebels of that vicinity are suffering terribly for want of the necessaries of life, and predicts starvation before the close of winter.

The authorities of Mobile have ordered the enrollment of negroes.

The Richmond Examiner of the 3d inst. says the northern cities are swarming with refugees from Dixie, their principal rendezvous being New York, where Butler and Knox, who robbed the rebel Treasury of about a million dollars, are now located.

The Intended Raid on Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.

It is reliably ascertained that the rebels have purchased the propeller Georgianna at Toronto, and it is being strengthened and armed somewhere on the Canada shore for the purpose of seizing the steamer Michigan, and for piratical purposes generally on the coast. She was ostensibly purchased by a house in Toronto for the lumber trade. She came to Buffalo harbor on the 2d inst. to have a part of her machinery repaired, and left soon after without a description of freight. We are prepared for her here.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., November 6.

There is much excitement on the American side of the river at the anticipated raid. The citizens are arming, and goods and valuables are being removed. A special train with troops is expected to-night.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 6.

The following is an extract from a letter received to-day by the Express from Dunville, C. W., dated yesterday:

"Look out for a raid on Buffalo from Toronto and Hamilton on Tuesday next. The advance guard is at Fort Erie and Suspension Bridge, or will be on Monday. Their headquarters are at Toronto. Some leading Canadians direct the raiders, who are not all Southerners." The letter is signed,

JOHN B. HOLLEY.

From Gens. Grant and Sheridan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.

Intelligence from Gen. Grant's army reports everything quiet. Gen. Gregg has been promoted to a brevet Major Generalship.

Letters of the 31st, from Sheridan's army, report that a small rebel cavalry force crossed the north fork of the Shenandoah, on the 30th, and proceeded in the direction of the Murray Court House.

A despatch of the 4th inst., from the 19th army corps, states that Early's army is reorganizing at Newmarket and that reinforcements of conscripts have been sent Early in considerable numbers.

A Martinsburg dispatch of the 2d states that Moseby assaulted our pickets on the 1st inst., with the intention of stampeding our animals, but was unsuccessful.

Railroad Accident.

COLLICOON, N. Y., Nov. 6.

Last night the express train from Dunkirk ran off the track at this station in consequence of the misplacement of the switch. The engine, baggage car and two passenger cars were thrown down an embankment. The fireman and several passengers were killed and a number wounded.

From the Mississippi—Two Gunboats Disabled by a Rebel Battery and Blown up—Condition and Movements of Hood's Army.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6.

Yesterday at daylight the gunboat Undine, captured a few days ago by the rebels, came through the Chute at Reynoldsburg Island, and landed some rebel troops, and left at 8 o'clock. The gunboats Key West and Elfin steamed down near the west side of Reynoldsburg Island from Johnsville, and engaged a rebel battery of 24-pounder Parrotts. The gunboats were driven back badly damaged to Johnsville. At two o'clock in the afternoon the enemy's batteries opened on the disabled gunboats. They responded until their ammunition was expended, and they were then blown up. Their boats' crews are at the fort in Johnsville. This morning the rebels commenced crossing in the boats of the Undine at a place about five miles above Johnsville.—Two flat boats were also used. No fighting has taken place to-day. The rebels are engaged in burying their dead.

Gunboats from Paduoah are in sight, and reinforcements have arrived.

Gen. Schofield takes command of the post of Johnsville.

Intelligence from below Florence states that a large part of Hood's army is still south of the river. They are out of rations and clothing, and are subsisting on the country.

Blockade Runners Captured and Destroyed. Rumors from Gen. Grant's Army.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.

The following captures of blockade runners were reported to the Navy Department today:

The English steamer Lucy was captured on the 2d, laden with 214 bales cotton and 25 tons of tobacco. The steamer Anna was captured on Monday last, laden with 518 bales of cotton, 30 tons of tobacco, and 15 barrels of turpentine, making seven captures of blockade runners and four destroyed, within the last thirty days. The Lucy and Anna have arrived Fortress Monroe.

Among the rumors brought by passengers from the Army of the Potomac, is one that Gen. Hancock resigns his command of the 2d corps to assume that of a department, and that Gen. Parke will take command of the 2d corps, while Gen. Gibbons will be assigned to the 9th corps. It is also said that Gen Humphreys is to have a corps.

Various Items.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.

The 6th, 7th and 10th Connecticut regiments, under Gen. Hawley, arrived here to-day with orders to report to Gen. Butler, it is understood for garrison duty.

The 5th Mass. 100 days' regiment arrived to-night, en route for home, their term of service having expired.

New Orleans letters mention a naval expedition up a small inlet near Mobile, where there was considerable grain, cattle, &c.

Among the persons recently exchanged in Louisville was Capt. Nichols of the 15th Me.; also 191 enlisted men. Five hundred more prisoners are to be exchanged.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29.

Steamer James Pierce has arrived with 65 bales of cotton.

The dispatch boat Volunteer has returned from up the river, having taken the vote of the Mississippi fleet.

One thousand four hundred cattle were lately crossed over the river at Jackson Point, for the rebels.

Lieut. Earle left Natchez on the 27th ult. on an expedition below.

Gen. Hurlbut has ordered the raising of two one year regiments for the defence of that city.

Hood Again Repulsed with Considerable Loss.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 5.

On the 3d inst. the rebel army under Hood attempted to cross the Tennessee River, at the mouth of the Blue Water, and were repulsed by the Federal army under Sherman with considerable loss.

MISCELLANY.

REVERENCE IN A WIFE.

BY AUGUSTA MOORE.

'Well, Katie, so you expect to marry Edward, after all. I thought you said you were only flirting with him.'

'That was what I intended, Mary; but, somehow, the artful fellow has cheated me into agreeing to have him.'

'I thought how all your grand talk about freedom and never bending your neck to any man's neck would end. "Tis the old story.'

'Not so; I'm not going to wear the yoke. Edward is to obey me. He will I know. He has hardly any will but mine, now, and I don't intend that he ever shall have. He don't pretend to oppose me in any thing. I wouldn't be hired to have him were he to presume to treat me as Helen Norman's lover treats her and I told Helen so. He is always telling her of her faults.'

'They have agreed to kindly tell each other of their faults and help each other to overcome them. I think this is a most excellent way.'

'Well, I don't. I am free enough to tell Ed his faults, but he would not dare to return the compliment. It would make me angry in a minute. In fact, Mary, I think I am a fortunate girl. I have found a man with plenty of money, a generous and yielding disposition, very generous, who worships me, and is willing that I should always have my own way; who is, in short, unable to prevent me from having it.'

'And do you think that you can have the blessing of God on your marriage when it is entered upon in a spirit so utterly the reverse of what he requires? I suppose you admit that the Bible is authority. Consider what its teachings are.'

"I do—it says submit to one another. I suppose I shall submit to Ed. a part of the time; it would be only fair."

"Kate, the Bible says, 'Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands as unto the Lord; for the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church.—Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be unto their own husbands in every thing, and let the wife see that she reverence her husband.' How dare you, presumptuous girl, resolve to trample on God's arrangement and his law? You may be sure that trouble is before you if you go forward to the marriage altar with such a spirit as now animates you. As for Edward, he is infatuated indeed, if he gives his honor and his happiness into your hands."

Katie, angry at such plain talk, abruptly turned from her companion and walked rapidly away.

The expected marriage took place. For a few months Edward walked in a trance of sensuous and imaginative bliss; then down he came, and never more did he ascend the hills of joy. He was, as Kate had said, quite unable to control or cope with her. He was too gentle, and he loved her too tenderly. She had over him the immense advantage of loving him very little. She could tear his heart-strings every hour. He could scarcely stir hers at any time. You perceive, good reader, that she 'had' him.

Children were born to this pair. Kate managed them something as a tigress might manage her young. Edward was allowed to have no word in the matter. In a few years the poor man, crushed and over-borne, died. Kate was provoked with him for this independent action. She liked him; she made him very useful. She had not thought he would go without leave. But he did it. Kate lorded it for a few years more, till her children became too strong for her. Then they, albeit they knew not what they were doing, avenged their father. They broke their mother's spirit and her heart, and yon bent, grey, mumbling old crone in the almshouse is all that remains of the once lively and beautiful Kate. The sower the wind she reaped the whirlwind.

The State Normal School

Opens Aug. 24th, at Farmington.

THE School is now in successful operation under the following teachers: Mr. A. P. Kelsey, Mr. George M. Gage, Miss Annie Johnson.

Blackmer's Concentrated

FRUIT WINE,

Made Without Fermentation.

THIS WINE possesses a mild and delicious flavor, full body. It is prepared from choice indigenous fruits; and from its peculiar mode of preparation, possesses remarkable healing properties.

Nothing more Palatable, Nothing more Invigorating. Nothing more Strengthening.

A half wine-glass taken a short time before breakfast will sharpen the appetite, and is to be relied on when every other mode of treatment fails.

Used for Nervous Weakness, Used for Kidney Complaints, Used for Indigestion.

It is rapidly growing into public favor, for those who use it once invariably buy it the second time.—It is used as a dinner wine by many in place of all others.

Good for the Sedentary, Good for the Consumptive, Good for the Invalid.

It is quite refreshing after a tiresome walk, and to the sedentary and convalescent it can be said to be truly invaluable. Every household should have a supply constantly on hand for family use.

This Wine is Unfermented, This Wine is Unfermented, This Wine is Unfermented.

Prepared and for sale by L. BLACKMER & CO. Worcester, Mass. For sale in Portland by W. T. PHILLIPS, & CO., and by Druggists and dealers generally. oct27evd3m.

INSURANCE.

MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated 1845. Charter Perpetual

THIS most successful of all Life Assurance Companies has now a net accumulation of over $600,000.00.

Its own history after 20 years' experience is the best evidence of its superior management, and of the great advantages it affords to those who insure.

Special attention is asked to the following facts:

The Annual Dividends of this Company are now

Fifty Per Cent,

and have been for several years. Declared annually, and paid after two years.

A dividend is declared and paid upon each and every payment made, whether the party is living or not. No other Company in the United States does this.

Its assets on the 31st of December last, as shown by the New York Insurance Commissioners' Report, were sufficient to provide for its "Computed premium reserve," the payment of "All its dividends" and every other liability, contingent or absolute, and leave a clear net surplus of $1,807,650.17.

This surplus is nearly $1,000,000.00 larger than that of any other Life Company in the United States and $1,500,000 larger than any other, with two exceptions.

Parties now insuring in this Company participate in the benefits of this large and increasing surplus.

This Company has paid to thousands in Dividends

$2,350,000.00,

while the total amounts paid for claims by death exceeds

$8,400,000.00

Policies issued on the non-forfeiting ten year plan as well as in all the other usual forms.

Every considerate man who will apply to Life Insurance the same principles that would guide him in making other investments, or in the management of his own business, will strongly investigate the advantages of the Mutual Benefit System, as illustrated in the history of this Company, before insuring his life in any other. By neglecting to do so he will probably pay from 10 to 25 dollars on every $100 as the price of his failure to inform himself.

Remember the Dividends are 50 per cent. The first one is paid you just four years from the date of your policy; a Dividend is paid you EVERY year thereafter, while the Undivided Surplus from which all dividends are made is nearly $1,000,000 larger than that of any other Company in America.

Reliable information in reference to all the companies will be freely given at this office, from Commissioners Reports for successive years.

INSURANCE.

BE NOT DECEIVED!

Life Insurance,

RECENT developments should lead every considerate man who proposes insuring his life, to investigate for himself the system or plans proposed, especially by strangers whom he has never seen before and may never see again.

If you want

Stability! Security!! Perpetuity!!!

Look into the system of the

Mutual Life Insurance Co.,

OF NEW YORK,

W. D. LITTLE, Ag't,

ESTABLISHED IN 1843.

Which offers the following peculiar advantages:—

Its assets are larger than those of any Life Insurance Company in the United States, amounting to and are exclusively cash.

The Dividends for the past five years ($2,000,000) are larger in amount and proportion to premiums paid, than were ever declared in the same space of time by any company in the world. The business of this company is conducted on the Mutual principle in the strictest sense of the term, the entire surplus, deducting necessary expenses alone, being equitably divided among the assured.

Its rates of premium are lower than those of the majority of other Life insurance Companies, yet its dividends have been greater; the result of a most careful and judicious selection of lives and the favorable rate of interest on its investments, being 7 per cent.

The mortality among its members has been proportionately less than that of any other Life Insurance Company in either America or Europe whose experience has been made known—a result in the highest degree favorable to policy-holders.

The amount insured in this Company exceeds that of any other Life Insurance Company in the United States, thus affording greater security—the necessary law of average having more scope for operation.

The funds of the Company are invested exclusively in Bonds and Mortgages on Real Estate worth in each case at least double the amount loaned, and in State and City Stocks; the solidity and security of which will be considered, with premium notes, to cut up its vitals and no profits of its members.

Security is, in Life Assurance, the paramount consideration; and all other circumstances being equal that company will be preferred having the largest accumulations and in which the largest number is insured. Its expenses are less than most of other companies.

Its System of Non-forfeiting Policies. Also Endowment Policies, payable on attaining a certain age, say 40, 45, 50, 55 or 60 years, or in case of death before arriving at that age, and its payments in five, ten or more annual instalments, is much more advantageous than that of any other Company in this country.

No person who has insured with this great Company during the 21 years I have been its agent in this city, has ever with rare or discontinued his Policy from any dissatisfaction or misunderstanding of the operation of its system, while hundreds insured with other companies have done so.

Many policies now outstanding at my agency have increased more than 50 per cent. on the sum insured, and much more than the amount of premium paid, viz:—

Policy No. 7862, insured for $3000 is now worth $6000—increase $3000

Policy No. 7867, insured for $8000, is now worth $12000—increase $4000.

Having run but little more than twelve years.—Many other instances with similar results can be shown to any who will call on me, and many interesting facts of great value will be furnished cheerfully.

Documents and all needful information cheerfully furnished at the Office or by mail to remote parties and inquirers.
